THE FIRING LINE

I think you have a truly authentic combat book. It's the best of all. You should also put in your book a page for letters and answers on war lore.

David Goble
Cliff, New Mexico

You're reading it now, David. "The Firing Line" is the spot for you readers to shoot your comments and criticisms at us—Ed.

I have read your first issue of BLAZING COMBAT and think your artists and writers are the BEST. The stories tell just how things happened in past and present wars. They don't make all the stories one-sided like you see on T.V. I like the way you tell about different wars and battles. I don't know if the stories are true or not but the way they are presented, I seem to think so. I am sure I'll get many more reading hours from your magazine.

Charles Metzger
Conshohocken, Pa.

Horror and science-fiction stories I enjoy—war stories I don't. I'm sorry to see your new magazine was not a science or fantasy adventure.

Ralph Williams
Los Angeles, Calif.

I read the first issue of BLAZING COMBAT and found it especially absorbing because of the variety of the material and the undoubted skills displayed by your artists.

I am familiar with the work of some of the men, but not all, and I went over their separate techniques with great interest.

Milton Caniff
New York, New York

We are duly proud of these kind words from Mr. Caniff, creator of "Steve Canyon"—Ed.

Congratulations on your latest success, BLAZING COMBAT. Everything about it is exquisitely professional. The cover by Frank Frazetta is great (when isn't it?)...

The best story for artwork was "Cantigny." Reed Crandall is an extremely terrific pen and ink artist. His method of contour line shading really puts dimension into his drawings. There is another who's style is similar to Frazetta and Crandall yet his work is original... Roy Krenkel. He would be a welcome addition (by myself, at least) to your two comic mags.

The best story for its plot is a hard decision. I think it's a tie between "Viet-Cong" and "Flying Tigers." You should do more stories about war in the air and on the sea, especially a WW I air story and have George Evans or Reed Crandall do it. Also, although Archie Goodwin is a good writer and full of many ideas, I think you should get a few other writers for variety...

Dean Richardson
Nashville, Tennessee

Artwork by Roy Krenkel appears in CREEPLY #8. For WW I aerial combat, check out Alex Toth's "Lone Hawk"—Ed.

BLAZING COMBAT is great but what else could you expect from a magazine with Frank Frazetta, Reed Crandall and George Evans as staff artist.

Frazetta's cover is great, he'll never surpass it. CREEPLY's first issue had a story by Mr. Frazetta, but after he began doing covers, he stopped illustrating the stories. I think this is one of CREEPLY's worst mistakes. Get my point?

Although he's given credit as a staff artist in CREEPLY I have never seen George Evans art in any one story. His art for "Flying Tigers" is superb. CREEPLY has been foolish in not using Mr. Evan's talent...

Max Aldahondo, Jr.
New York, New York

Both George Evans and Frank Frazetta are kept busy by many commitments, so that their work can only appear in BC and CREEPLY as their time and schedules permit. Naturally, the more often this occurs, the happier we are—Ed.

Although I do not usually read war stories, I had to pick up BLAZING COMBAT when I saw it for two reasons: 1. Frazetta's cover was a masterpiece, 2. It sported the magnetic "A Warren Magazine" on the cover, it HAD to be good! And I was far from disappointed.

"Viet Cong" was a fabulous portrayal of guerrilla warfare. "Aftermath," "Long View," "Cantigny" and "Enemy" were all alike in that they showed the horrible effects of war that, in their toll of human lives, make it seem so useless, but each of the stories had its own different and interesting way to get the point across. "Enemy" was especially poignant, showing the view from the other side. "Flying Tigers" and "Mad Anthony", to the contrary, showed the rewards, although perhaps sometimes long range, of warfare. I could only imagine Captain Wayne's superior officer (in "Long View") using these two stories to illustrate his point.

The variety of types of war story in BC #1 is fantastic and the quality superb. Keep up the good work. I hardly need to wish you luck with such a terrific magazine. I can't wait until #2 hits the newsstands!

Robert Baker
Syracuse, New York

Next to the now defunct SPACEMEN and the almost defunct SCREEN THRILLS ILLUSTRATED, this is the finest magazine published by James Warren. After only one issue, this magazine stands as one of the finest in the comic field. One couldn't ask for much better art and imaginative writing.

Every story was good, but the one that really packed a punch was "Enemy". John Severin's emotion-filled drawings certainly got the point across and reminded us that war brings out the beast in man and that even the enemy is cared for. You can count me as a loyal reader as long as the magazine doesn't deteriorate in art and story.

Roy R. Russell
Toronto, Canada

I have just finished issue #1 and my only words are "a truly magnificent book". The impact which "Long View" and "Enemy" left the reader is something. Here, unlike CREEPLY, there wasn't any joking—just the harsh reality of man's most abundant pastime—War! I also hope you feature more stories concerning the Civil War, Revolution, etc., and maybe some not just about Americans, but say, England's Bengal Lancers or Light Brigade!

Joe R. Smith
Emmaus, Pennsylvania

I think you magazine BLAZING COMBAT has the greatest collection of war stories I've ever read. There are no big heroes doing impossible things. It's real war.

I think the story "Aftermath" was a little dull. There wasn't much excitement in it. If you print any more Civil War stories, I hope you make them more exciting. In future issues, I hope you print some stories about the Mexican War, Spanish-American War, Korean War, The Indian Wars, and all the rest of the wars we've fought in.

Tim Hughes
Cleveland, Ohio

Joe Orlando charges into the Spanish-American war this issue, while Al McWilliam's "Big Alley" and John Severin's "Holding Action" bring you air and ground action in Korea—Ed.

Wow, you guys got something great going. I thought you topped the cake with CREEPLY, but BLAZING COMBAT has the potential to be even better. After finishing it, I decided to make a summary of it. So here goes...

COVER: I knew Frazetta was great, but not that great. He really did a masterful job. I also liked the way you had "Blazing" as though it was on fire. Made the cover more eye-catching.

VIET-CONG: Fair. The story itself wasn't really good but Orlando's artwork saved it. There wasn't enough action.

AFTERMATH: Excellent. In my opinion, the best story and art in the book. I like the sequence of the reb loading his gun while the northerner scattered behind a rock. The fight at the end was also good. Torres fit the story perfectly.

FLYING TIGERS: Good. Once again, the story didn't impress me, but there was still plenty of action. Evans draws planes great.

LONG VIEW: Excellent. This story was packed with action and Morrow did a great job especially on pages 26 and 27.

CANTIGNY: Excellent. The story wasn't the best, but Crandall was at his. He's my favorite artist and didn't let me down. Panel 5, Page 33 was a great picture.

ENEMY: Excellent. Boy, am I surprised. I thought Severin did just funny art, but he was pretty serious in this story. Plenty of action with good ending.

Well, that's it, but how about getting Jack Davis on staff and have more WW I and II stories. Looking forward to future issues.

The Albatross dove to escape Bishop's attack... but the Canadian kept him in range! Down, DOWN... bars by 20 yards apart, his Lewis gun screaming

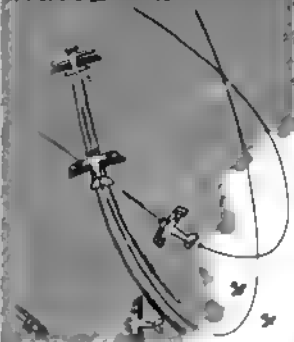

HE'S FLATTENING OUT! NOW-- I'VE-- GOT 'IM!

Trailing his attack with bloodless hands, BISHOP put his Nieuport in a flat glide... in a reach for time and distance... sweating out every meter, he brought his ship two miles to the British line...

might be diving at him. Bishop set his sights on an Albatross attacking one of his comrades...

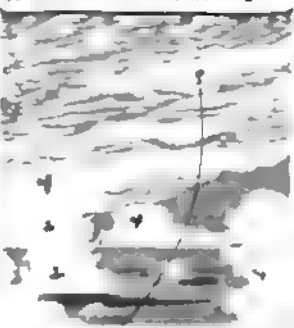

CONKED OUT!

DIVE WAS TOO MUCH FOR HIS ENGINE AND OVER THE GERMAN LINES!

MEANWHILE... 7 May, 1917, top English ace ALBERT BALL, during an afternoon action, had flown his Nieuport into a thick cloud bank... and was never seen again!

COON. BISHOP WAS AN ACE WITH 20 KILLS, AND A CAPTAINCY ... ALL IN SIX WEEKS! A LONG CAREER ON THE WESTERN FRONT OF 1917... WHERE DEATH AND DANGER WAS CONSTANT ... AND INEVITABLE! ...

HE LEFT HIS STRINGING FROM A MISTAKE THAT COULD BE NO NEARER. BISHOP BANKED INSTINCTIVELY, AND CLIMBED UPWARD, AS A PRATZ DIPPED BY HIM SO CLOSE HE COULD FEEL THE PROPULSION.

ITS FIRE RIPPED ACROSS THE UNDERBELLY OF THE PRATZ! HIS QUARTY, FALLING IN FLAMES, BECAME BISHOP'S 22ND WIN! AND HE ESCAPED THE OTHER THREE PRATZES BEFORE THEY COULD HEM HIM INTO THEIR TRAP ...

BEFORE THE SECOND PLANE OF THE HUN FORMATION COULD RESPOND, BISHOP KICKED THE NEUPORT BACK UPSTAIRS...

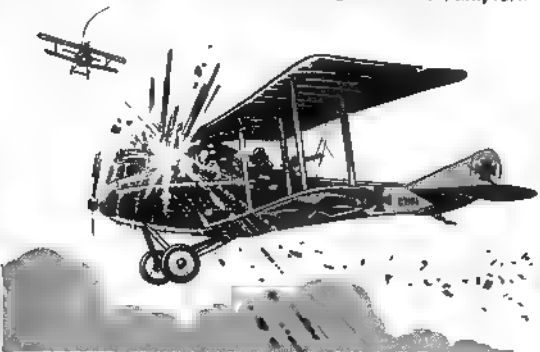

MEANWHILE ... 11 SEPTEMBER, 1918 FRANCE'S LEGENDARY GUNNER WENT DOWN IN NO MAN'S LAND DURING AN ARTILLERY BARRAGE ... HIS BODY WAS NEVER FOUND.

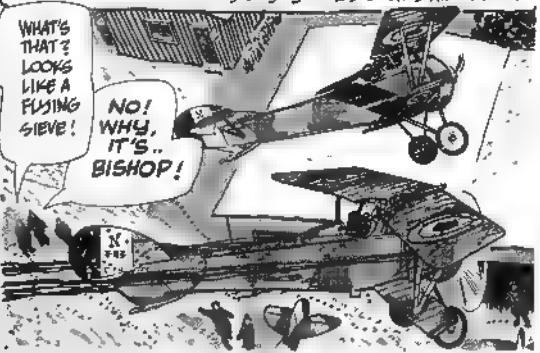

It had been morning when BISHOP encountered the five planes that came afternoon, after lunch, he took to the air again...

Throttle wide open winging further Eastward, he had two more brushes with German ships hunting in pairs, then dropped out of a cloud over Monochy to attack a Rumpier...

Both BISHOP and the British plane made it to safety... for the Canadian, a perfect ending to a long day of combat - a day in which he had personally engaged 23 ENEMY AIRCRAFT!

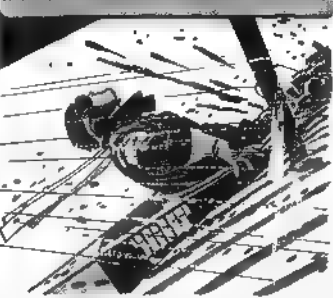

East of Lens, he scattered two German observation planes...

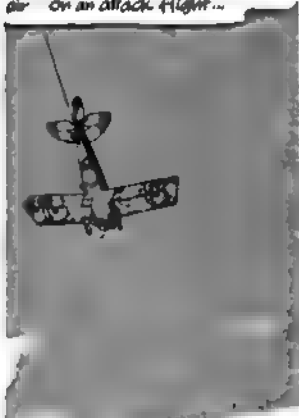

He took on fuel and ammo once more and returned to the skies... He was about to call it a day when...

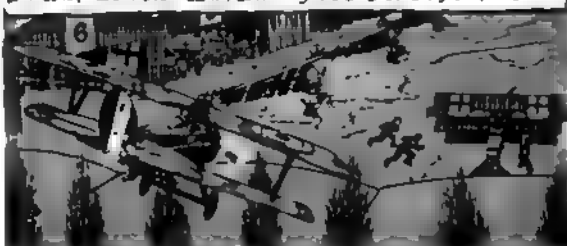

MEANWHILE... 21 April 1918... the famous Red Knight of Germany, VON RICHTHOFFEN, was fatally wounded in action over the Somme River... his Fokker Drei landed on Allied ground, his dead hands still on the controls.

Bishop's kills numbered into the forties, and the King had given him the D.S.O. ... Still, as the cold light of dawn brought life to a German airdrome, he was in the air on an attack flight ...

At tree top level he roared in, catching the airborne by surprise ...

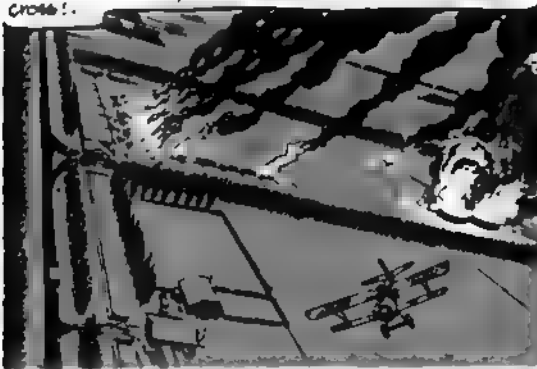

Some German pilots got to their mounts ... but no further ... and ...

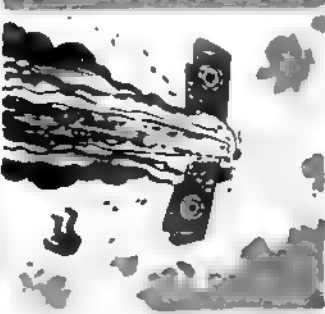

One did make it into the air somehow, only to be shot down ...

It was over in six minutes ... Bishop flew home for breakfast, unscathed and unpursued ... later was awarded the Victoria Cross !.

WHILE ... in May, 1918, the plane of American Ace, Royal Lufbery burst into flame during combat to avoid burning to death he jumped ... without a parachute !

June, 1918 -- the General Staff decided BISHOP was too valuable to risk losing -- he was ordered to leave the Front in 12 days... In the first 11 days, he shot down 20 German planes.

THIS IS BISHOP'S LAST DAY! BUT HE'S TAKING OFF AT DAWN... AS ALWAYS!

WONDER IF HE'LL MAKE IT BACK... AS ALWAYS?

Again and again, BISHOP returned for fuel and ammo, then took to the air... for the hunt... and the kill...

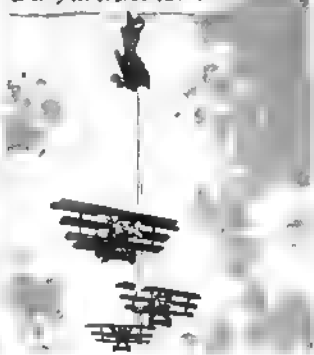

But it's not the tally of kills, nor his medals, that makes BISHOP unique...

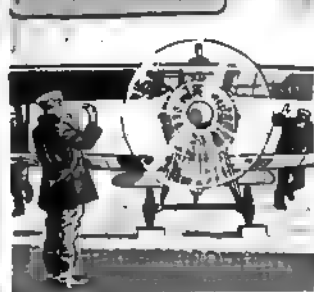

It's not his flying or shooting skills -- nor his incredible dash and daring

His Newport stalked the skies over the Western Front, challenging the enemy wherever found.

30 days' end, he came back -- his engine whining from strain, Lewis gun hot and smoking -- and FIVE MORE KILLS! The sum set upon his tour of combat -- his total -- 72 Hun planes, confirmed!

This is what makes BRU BISHOP unique... he walked away... ALIVE!!!

BORIS KARLOFF, FRANKENSTEIN HIMSELF TELLS YOU: "TALES OF MYSTERY & IMAGINATION"

Only as Karloff can tell it "THE LEGEND OF SLEEPY HOLLOW" and "RIP VAN WINKLE" A brand new record by the master story-teller of horror and mystery. In all the frightening powers of his voice with the chilling background of special sound effects, you live the great classic horror tales of the headless horseman. The hoof-beats of the horse, the howling of the wind as it whips the robe around a rider without a head. The night lives with terror and you sit in your room and hear the sounds and maybe if you look out your window, you'll catch a fast look at the night rider who roams the countryside. Only $1.98.

On any Wednesday night in the late 1930's and early 1940's when radio was king, all the lights would be on in my house and the radio was tuned to a national radio program called "LIGHTS OUT" directed by Arch Oberler whose special talent scored the wits out of all America with his famous broad-chilling radio series. Here is a sampler of this pioneer of horror and suspense that has never been matched. Only $5.99

THIS PLANT ACTUALLY EATS INSECTS AND BITS OF MEAT!

VENUS FLY TRAP

$1.00 THE WORLD'S MOST UNUSUAL HOUSE PLANT!

Every insect touches sensitive hairs causing trap to shut. Plant then dissolves & digests insect. Trap will bite of bit & it will NOT bite off more than it can chew—such as a finger or a pencil. In a few days after eating an insect will regrow for more food.

A BEAUTIFUL PLANT! The VENUS FLY TRAP is unusually beautiful! It bears lovely white flowers on 12" stems. Its dark green leaves are tipped with lovely pink traps—colorful and unusual.

EATS FLIES AND INSECTS! Each pink trap contains a bit of nectar. It is this color and sweetness which attracts the unsuspecting insect. Once he enters the trap, it snaps shut! Digestive juices then dissolve him. When the insect has been completely absorbed the trap reopens and prettily awaits another insect.

FEED IT RAW BEEF! If there are no insects in your house, you can feed the traps thin slivers of raw beef. The plant will thrive on such food. When there is no food for the traps, the plant will feed normally through its root system.

EASY TO GROW! The VENUS FLY TRAP bulbs grow especially well in the home. They thrive in glass containers and will develop traps in 3 to 4 weeks. Each order includes 3 FLY TRAPS plus SPECIAL GROWING MATERIAL packed in a plastic bag. Only $1.00.

ADMIRED BY CHARLES DARWIN
FAMOUS BOTANIST AND EXPLORER

In 1875 Prof. Darwin wrote: "This plant, commonly called Venus Fly Trap, from the rapidity and force of its movements, is one of the most wonderful in the world. It is a slightly damp bit of meat which produces these horrible possibilities and yet it is certainly a fact."

No Canadian Orders—U.S. Only
